Austin, Texas, March 26 .- Governor Hobby late today presented for approval of the United States department of agriculture a plan for meeting the pink boll worm situation in Texas without the immediate calling of the legislature. Under this plan, which was outlined in a letter to the department, the governor has asked the Texas department of agriculture to convene the pink boll worm commission to "make the required investigation and establish non-cotton zones for the present regulated zones when necessary."

Has Power to Act. Tl governor said: "The attorne general has advised me there is full power to do this under the present law, and that the five-mile zone designated under the law may be repeated to such an extent as to cover any and all territory of whatever area that may be infested."

The governor continued that he will "provide a means for compensating farmers for losses sustained by issuing deficiency warrants therefor, based upon the present authorization of the law, and if these warrants are not acceptable, call the legislature a "Road of Remembrance," in honor later on when the amount of damages can be measured, and ask the legislature to appropriate such sums as may be necessary. This is the only weak point in the law, since the legislature authorized the payment of these damages, but did not make a direct appropriation therefor."

Appeals to Federal Officers. The governor said that departments country, and the whole nation is under hearing on April 6 (in Washington) be a sufficient guaranty in your judgment of meeting the situation to such Pack asks, could be erected for him a beautiful home ceremony in which age was reported. an extent as to prevent federal quar- than the creation of a "Road of Re- all members of the family particiantine." Grand Rapids, Mich., March 20. -United States Senator Newberry was convicted of conspiracy in the Federal court. Senator Newberry was charged with conspiring to secure his election to the Senate. Seventeen other defendants were found guilty.

Conviction of Senator Newberry will not invalidate his seat in the Senate. Republicans said he would be entitled to retain the office until the Senate itself acts upon charges filed by opponent, Henry Ford. The penalty is a fine of ten thousand dollars or less and two years or less imprisonment.
